

 Clinical Cardiac Electrophysiology  Version 1.0  Physicians requesting privileges in this subspecialty must also request Internal Medicine privileges.  Physicians requesting privileges in this subspecialty must also request Cardiology privileges.  Scope

 P388140: The scope of privileges in Clinical Cardiac Electrophysiology (CCEP) includes the scope of privileges for cardiology. CCEP focuses on the treatment of patients with complex heart rhythm or conduction abnormalities. CCEP involves interpreting noninvasive test results related to arrhythmia diagnosis and treatment, performing and interpreting invasive electrophysiologic testing, and performing cardiac ablation procedures.

  Diagnosis and Management (D&M):  Procedures: P391890: Implant permanent pacemaker P388184: Implant implantable cardioverter / defibrillator P391892: Implant biventricular cardiac rhythm device P388192: Interrogation and reprogramming of pacemakers and defibrillators P388186: Electrophysiologic testing / interpretation P388188: Ablation P388196: Lead extraction P391877: Trans-septal catheterization P388180: Intravascular / intracardiac ultrasound  Other (Facility- or provider-specific privileges only):